

Adult Emergency Department
Emergency Ultrasound
Limited Obstetric Exam
Page 1 of 1

Patient Name _____
MRN _____

PATIENT IDENTIFICATION LABEL

Indication:

A focused ultrasound exam of the pelvis, using a: ☐ TRANSABDOMINAL ☐ TRANSVAGINAL approach, was performed to evaluate for intra-uterine pregnancy (IUP) versus signs of ectopic pregnancy in the patient. The ultrasound was performed with the following indications, as noted in the H&P, in a patient with a positive pregnancy test and the following:

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Vaginal bleeding | <input type="checkbox"/> Back pain |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Pelvic or abdominal pain | <input type="checkbox"/> Trauma |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Syncope | <input type="checkbox"/> Other indications as noted in the H&P |

Identified structures:

- ☐ Uterus & Pouch of Douglas
☐ Right and Left adnexae

Findings: Exam of the above structures revealed the following findings:

Uterus: Definitive IUP

☐ Yes ☐ No

Adnexa:

☐ Normal ☐ Abnormal

Free fluid in Cul de sac:

☐ Absent ☐ Present: ☐ Small ☐ Mod ☐ Large

Estimated gestational age by:

Crown Rump Length: _____ weeks _____ days

Bi-parietal diameter: _____ weeks _____ days

Femur length: _____ weeks _____ days

Fetal Heart Rate (beats/min): _____

Other findings: _____

Impression:

- ☐ IUP
☐ No definitive IUP
☐ Ectopic pregnancy
☐ Other: _____

Physician signature: _____ Pager ID _____ Date _____ Time _____ AM/PM

CPT Transabdominal: 76815-26
CPT Transvaginal: 76817-26 (-52)